

INTERMEDIATE ARCHITECT

Assembledge+ is a Los Angeles based design practice driven by a commitment to collaboration and craftsmanship with the goal of creating enduring environments that are user-focused, innovative, and sustainable.

Though following in the tradition of Southern California modernist design, our work is not only local. We currently have projects in Canada and throughout the United States, including residential projects in Hawaii.

Our work is regularly showcased in a wide variety of publications, including books, the New York Times, Dwell, Architecture Record, and many others. We have also received numerous regional and national awards

In addition to quality architecture, we are committed to maintaining a positive, productive studio environment. Team members who are self-directed but also dedicated collaborators are best suited to our studio.

Currently, we have an immediate need for a talented and driven architect or architectural designer who shares our design sensibility and has experience with custom residential, multi-family, or restaurant projects.

The position is full time with medical benefits and paid vacation.

SOME GUIDELINES:

- 5+ years of professional work or equivalent experience in all design phases.
- Capacity to produce well-coordinated construction documents.
- Technical knowledge of detailing and ability to develop new details.
- Our core design and production software includes SketchUp, REVIT, AutoCad, and Adobe Creative Suite. Additional knowledge of Rhino and various rendering engines is desirable.

A FEW REQUIREMENTS:

- As mentioned, the studio environment is very important to us, so we generally do not work remote. Therefore, you must be located in Los Angeles (our studio is currently in Hollywood at Vine and Sunset).
- Proof of vaccination.
- US Citizenship or permanent resident status.
- A degree in architecture or engineering. A Master's degree and license in architecture is desirable.

HOW TO APPLY:

Please email your cover letter, resume and relevant work samples as PDF attachments to jobs@assembledge.com with the subject line 'Design Team'. Limit file sizes to 5MB. No phone calls, please.

A concise cover letter that helps us understand your interests, strengths, and possible initial limitations is strongly recommended.
